Artist Bio:

Mark Sheeky is a multi-disciplinary artist from the North of England. His career began developing computer games, publishing over 50 titles by 2006. In 2008 he became a full time artist, a surrealist/fantastical oil painter. Sheeky has one painting in the U.K. National Art Collection.

After early experiments in synthesiser music, his first music release was 'Arcangel' in 2000. Second release 'Synaesthesia' was released by REV Records in 2001. Since then, all of Sheeky's music remains self-published, and created exclusively using software tools of his own design. As part of the self-made, human-made philosophy no 3rd party plug-in or tool, no 'pitch correction' or generative AI has been used in any release.

Early music was instrumental, influenced by the electronic music from Commodore 64 computer games and Jean-Michel Jarre, this corresponded by Sheeky's life as a game developer and the requirement to compose music for games. Painting grew from a hobby to a full time obsession from around 2007, and this led to a change in musical direction towards live avant-garde piano performances, sometimes combined with spoken word poetry. In 2020, music became a main focus of Sheeky's artistic output. His music shifted towards vocal music in the progressive rock/art rock/art pop genres, often conceptual and somewhat surrealistic, matching his visual art style.

As of 2024, Sheeky has published over 40 original albums or EPs. As well as a solo music artist, Sheeky is part of contemporary lieder duo 'Fall in Green'.

About The Music:
